

Kobelco Cranes Remote Observation Satellite System

More efficient operation and stress-free maintenance service.

The KCROSS system can monitor the operating condition of machines even on faraway construction sites, using the personal computer in your office or your mobile phone. It offers a whole new level of operational management, showing position, operational status, maintenance history, operation times, and lifting times by period, maximum load ratio, and operation of safety systems. And it's easy to store all this data for each of your machines, and share it with Kobelco Cranes to ensure service and maintenance are up-to-date. In the unlikely event of problems, KCROSS lets our service team know exactly what to do, minimising your downtime.
